

About Me

My name is Andrew Fritz, and I'm a fifth-year undergraduate student at Michigan State University. I used my knowledge and experience learned in MI 349 to build and host a website that details my resume in a more dynamic, interactive environment.

The Mission

The purpose of this site is to provide information about my previous experiences in a professional setting, to allow visitors to see an accurate, comprehensive resume to share and distribute information about possible opportunities. In providing more information about my background, it gives a more interesting and personal touch than a traditional resume. By listing the positions I've held, and the skills developed in those roles, viewers can easily grasp my specializations and see some of the work I've done in the past.

Personas

A few personas interested in viewing this site could be:

- ★ Prospective employers with open positions
- ★ Career advisors helping to see what opportunities are a good fit
- ★ Recruiters attempting to connect with potential candidates

Comps

Instead of building my own site, I could have used one of the following services:
